dominique.laymand@ipson.com

Dominique Laymand reports directly to Ipsen's CEO and is a member of the Executive Leadership Team. She leads the Ethics and Social Responsibility Department and Strategy, based on a Business Integrity vision. In a former role, she acted as EMEA Vice-President Compliance & Ethics at Bristol-Myers Squibb.

Ms. Laymand is Honorary President of ETHICS, International Society of Healthcare Ethics and Compliance Professionals, whose mission is to be recognized as an independent international association of professionals, which sets standards of ethics and compliance, and shapes and influences strategies in the changing health care environment for the ultimate benefit of patients and society at large, contributing to the development of ethics and compliance professionals.

Ms. Laymand is an active member of various pharmaceutical industry associations and committees, proactively addressing trust, reputation, compliance, and ethics matters. She also plays a key role in various industry associations and provides ethics and compliance education in many different arenas.

Ms. Laymand received her Business Law Degree from Montpellier University in 1983, and her Health Law Degree from Sceaux University in 1996.
