Stephanie Busalacchi

Senior Counsel, Government Investigations & Litigation

Johnson & Johnson

sbusala1@its.jnj.com

Stephanie Busalacchi focuses primarily on conducting internal investigations and managing government investigations and litigation. Prior to joining Johnson & Johnson, she was in private practice at Ropes & Gray in New York and London, where she focused on government enforcement actions and internal investigations, particularly related to corruption and bribery risk. She has represented several health care companies that have resolved FCPA-enforcement actions with the DOJ and SEC and has counseled clients in connection with ongoing monitorships associated with those resolutions.
