Darren Punnen is a senior member of the firm’s Pharma, Healthcare, and Medical Device team and leads the firm’s Technology in Healthcare practice.

Mr. Punnen’s practice focuses on advising several multinational pharmaceutical, medical device, food & beverage (F&B), and health care companies on complex regulatory, intellectual property, and investment matters. He has significant experience in handling a variety of matters for pharmaceutical, medical device, digital health, and consumer care clients (including in the F&B sector), ranging from corporate transactions, regulatory litigations, commercial documentation, internal investigations, regulatory/IP advice, and dispute resolution.

Mr. Punnen is also the consulting lead for the IP & Legal working group for the leading MNC pharmaceutical industry association—the Organisation of Pharmaceutical Producers of India—and has regularly been invited as a speaker and panelist for various events in the pharmaceutical and health care industry, including medical devices and digital health.

Mr. Punnen regularly contributes to national and international publications, writing on various topics including pharmaceutical, medical device and health care regulations, med-tech, and digital health. He also regularly contributes to widely read health care publications, such as Express Pharma and Thomson Reuters, and has also prepared various guidebooks ranging from medicinal product regulations to pharmaceutical and medical device regulatory, intellectual property, and competition law framework.
