

David Feder, Litigation Counsel, Fenwick & West LLP
dfeder@fenwick.com

Dave Feder serves as Litigation Counsel at Fenwick, where he represents technology and life sciences companies in a broad range of complex commercial litigation matters, with a focus on privacy and cybersecurity litigation, counseling and investigations. Prior to joining Fenwick, Dave spent nearly a decade at the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey, most recently as Chief of the Cybercrime Unit. He is well versed in cybercrime matters, including ransomware and digital extortion, payment card and PII theft, botnets, digital currency fraud, hack-to-trade securities fraud, dark market sites and vendors, unlicensed money transmitters and business email compromise.