New & Updated Courses

ABA Transactional Tax Challenge (TAXN7111AA)

Lecture. 1 credit.

Professor Tracy Kaye

Pre/co-requisite: Federal Income Taxation

This course is designed for students who have an interest in business and/or tax planning. The course will give students the opportunity to apply what they have learned in class to real world business and tax planning issues.

Students must have taken Federal Income Taxation or must be taking Federal Income Taxation concurrently.

Students will meet at the beginning of the semester to discuss the assignment and learn about the available tax research tools. There will also be six additional one-hour meeting times, to be determined at the class's convenience. The ABA Tax Section will post the problem in early September. In a team of two, students will review a client's information to determine how certain issues have impacted the client's income tax burden and to advise the client of the tax consequences of their future decisions. The final product will consist of a 10-page memorandum and a 5-page client letter to be submitted in early November.

By participating in this challenge, teams have the opportunity to compete for the "Best Written Work Product" award or to be selected as one of six semi-finalists. If a team is chosen as a semi-finalist, the team will be invited to the ABA Tax Section's Midyear Meeting in Orlando (all expenses paid), from January 27-29, 2022, to give an oral presentation on their memorandum.

Advanced Topics in Federal Income Taxation (TAXN9000AA)

AWR Seminar. 1 credit.

Professor Richard Winchester

Pre/co-requisite: Federal Income Taxation

The course will permit the student to develop and write an AWR-quality paper under the supervision of the instructor on a subject connected to the material covered in Federal Income Taxation.

Law and the Technologies of Life (INDL9520AA/AB)

AWR Seminar. 3 credits

Reaction Papers. 2 credits

Our technologies change us, but we can also restructure them. In recent decades, technologies ranging from computers, smartphones, the Internet itself, artificial intelligence, robotics, genetics and reproductive technologies transformed our lives. They changed not only the way we live but also the choices we have and what it means to be human. This seminar will examine the law and ethical problems that involve use of these technologies.

The seminar will include a colloquium of cutting-edge projects. Guest speakers from other academic institutions will present their work in progress and receive feedback from the seminar students.

10 students can take the seminar for two credits. They will be required to write short reaction papers on the scholarly work in progress presented. There will be no exam.

Six students can take the seminar for three credits to satisfy their advanced writing requirement (AWR) and submit a final paper that meets the Law School's AWR requirement.

All students are expected to be actively engaged with the scholarly presentations.

Law and Politics in the Biden Administration's Foreign Policy

AWR Seminar. 3 credits.

Professor Margaret Lewis

2-hour weekly synchronous, remote format (1 credit writing)

Legal scholar Martti Koskenniemi has emphasized that, just as the classic optical illusion can be viewed as a duck or a rabbit, international events simultaneously carry legal and political significance. This combination of law and politics is apparent as the Biden administration formulates and implements its foreign policy.

This seminar will explore the interplay of law and politics in the first year of the Biden presidency. We will look at examples ranging from the US's push to regain a stronger presence in the United Nations to reengagement with the Paris Agreement on climate change. As a course that fulfills the Advanced Writing Requirement (AWR), each student will write a paper on a topic concerning some aspect of foreign policy under the Biden administration. This could focus on a specific country or an issue that spans across jurisdictions. We will discuss the writing and editing process throughout the semester. In addition to the written work, you will present your research to the class as part of the course. The weekly two-hour session will meet remotely.

In addition, all monies must be received prior to the date of your registration, regardless of the source from which the tuition is being paid. If you have a current balance, you will be automatically blocked from registering for courses and will be referred to the Bursar's Office. This will result in having to restart the registration process (if cleared by the Bursar to register) and will reduce your chances of enrolling in your desired courses.

NOTE: The Law School schedules courses according to the availability of facilities and instructors. Not all courses and seminars are offered each year. Several courses may be offered only in alternate years. The Law School reserves the right to add, delete, or to change any course, or the credit for any course, at any time. Some courses, and all seminars, skills offerings and clinical programs have limited enrollments. As in other law schools, Seton Hall Law School cannot assure every student the opportunity to take every desired course.

PASS/D OR FAIL OPTION POLICY

Once during a student's last four semesters, he or she may opt to take an elective course (excluding clinics) on a Pass/ D or Fail option. It is entirely up to the professor teaching the course whether he or she chooses to make this option available, and if so, may only be up to a maximum of 20% of the class. The Assistant Dean for Academic Services will determine if more students request the Pass/D or Fail option than there are seats, which students are permitted to take any course Pass/D or Fail. No student may take an AWR course using this option if he or she needs AWR certification for the graduation requirement. Courses that are offered with the option of Pass/D or Fail are noted in the schedule of classes enclosed in this handbook. A course that is only offered on a Pass/D or Fail basis shall not count as the "one elective" that may be taken on a Pass/D or Fail basis. To apply to take a course that is being offered with this option, you must submit the Pass/D or Fail Option Form for Elective Courses.

FILING DEADLINES

The below filing deadlines will be strictly adhered to:

CONCENTRATIONS

The Law School offers concentrations in Health Law, Intellectual Property and Compliance.

Healthcare Compliance Certification Program

The HCCP is a four-day program held at the law school from October 11, 2021 to October 14, 2021, running approximately from 9:00am until 5:30pm daily. In-person attendance at all HCCP sessions is mandatory. Students must complete the Application for to be considered for registration for this 2 credit course (HLTH 7405).

THE LEGAL PRACTICE CURRICULUM

The Legal Practice Curriculum offers students rigorous training in the skills needed to practice law. The classes utilize simulation exercises where students are required to engage in real lawyering tasks such as advocating for a client at trial, drafting a legal brief or contract, and mediating a dispute. These courses have limited enrollment (generally 8-12 students per section), thereby allowing significant interaction with and feedback from faculty. Many of these classes are taught by adjunct professors who are experts in the area. For example, federal judges and experienced trial lawyers teach many of the litigation skills courses.

REQUIRED COURSES

Each law student is required to take three legal practice courses prior to graduation.

1. Introduction to Lawyering (LAW5050-51)
2. Appellate Advocacy (MTCT7151)
3. Persuasion and Advocacy (PRMD8210)

Introduction to Lawyering

The Introduction to Lawyering course will introduce students to the fundamental skills employed by lawyers across various practice areas and will develop within students the habits of thoughtful, reflective, and ethical professional practice. Lawyering sections will be small and students will often work collaboratively in teams on projects; thus, providing a collegial intimate academic setting.

Appellate Advocacy

Appellate Advocacy is a two-credit required course that meets once a week in sections of no more than 16 students. Each section will be taught by an instructor with the assistance of a member of the Moot Court Board, who will focus on brief writing skills, advocacy strategy and oral argument skills.

Students receive a letter grade for the course, based upon completion of an appellate brief, a final round of oral argument, and participation in class and conferences. Students will prepare drafts and a final brief on a one-issue moot court problem, present several practice rounds of oral argument and one graded round, and meet in individual conferences with the instructor.

Students must register for Appellate Advocacy during their second year. New law journal members are advised to wait until Fall semester to register for Appellate Advocacy. This sequence allows the maximum opportunity for students to participate in the Gressman Competition, the Interscholastic Moot Court Board and the Appellate Advocacy Moot Court Board. This traditional sequence also affords students maximum flexibility in completing the AWR requirement, course selection, clinical participation, and other academic/co-curricular activities.

Persuasion and Advocacy

Persuasion and Advocacy teaches students the art of persuasion. While the course uses the context of a courtroom, the skills developed are applicable across the spectrum of legal work, whether in corporate negotiations, zoning board presentations, or appellate arguments. The exercises and simulations focus on the integration of storytelling and thematic development into the basic skills of direct examination, cross-examination, opening statements, and closing arguments. This is a highly participatory course, and students will be asked to participate in drills and simulations in every class.

In addition to the sections of Persuasion and Advocacy offered in the Fall 2021, multiple sections of the course will also be offered in the 2022 Winter Session for those students who are interested in taking the course in an accelerated full-day setting.

ADVANCED LEGAL PRACTICE COURSES

The law school offers an advanced number of legal practice courses where students can further exercise and improve their lawyering skills in specialized areas such as litigation, alternative dispute resolution, and transactional practice. For the Fall 2021 semester, the following advanced legal practice courses will be offered:

1. Advanced Civil Practice (PRMD9218)
2. Advanced Criminal Practice (PRMD9219)

EXTERNSHIPS

Students can develop their practical skills in real lawyering contexts through the Externship Program. Seton Hall has a broad range of Externship placements in nearly 200 not-for-profit and governmental organizations, with judges of approved courts, and with select entertainment organizations. The Externship Program provides students the opportunity to obtain academic credit for interning with approved organizations, provided all requirements are met.

Under current ABA and Law School requirements, students are fully eligible to receive academic credit for participation in an externship program after successful completion of 28 credits towards their JD program. Students who have successfully completed their first year of law school, but have not yet completed 28 credits of study, may still be eligible to receive academic credit for an externship, but this decision must be made on an individual basis by the Faculty Director. Specifically, ABA Standard 305(e)(6) requires that to receive academic credit for an externship, a student must have “successfully completed sufficient educational prerequisites or contemporaneously receive sufficient training to assure the quality of the student educational experience” in the externship program.

There is no minimum cumulative GPA requirement for students enrolling for externships during the summer. However, there is a 2.33 minimum cumulative GPA requirement for students enrolling for most externships during either the Fall or Spring semesters. In some instances, a higher cumulative GPA may be required for some externships. Please refer to the Externship Guide on the Symplicity System. In addition, the number of credits that can be earned for externships has been raised from a max of 4 to a max of 8. However, please be aware that externship credits are included in the 15 credit limit for Legal Practice and Self-Directed Work credits which can be applied towards graduation requirements. Therefore, if you are interested in participating in a clinic, you should be careful not to overextend on externship credits. Also, please keep in mind for planning purposes that an externship and a clinic cannot be taken in the same semester.

For all students interested in registering for an externship, please note the following special instructions, as you cannot register for externship through the traditional SHU Law registration for your fall courses:

1. Review the externship web page for the externship requirements and placement information at <http://law.shu.edu/career-services/externships.cfm>. Please note that before registering for the IRS or Entertainment Law externships, you must see Professor Tracy Kaye (IRS) or Professor Lori Borgen (Entertainment) for special program requirements. All judicial externship inquiries should be directed to Professor Kevin Kelly.
2. Review the Simplicity system and apply directly to an available employer to secure an externship placement with a government or public interest entity. Career Services can provide assistance with granting access to Simplicity. In the event you are proposing to extern at a new placement, see the Director of Externship Programs for placement approval prior to registering.
3. Access and complete the online externship registration form at: <http://law.shu.edu/forms/externship-registration.cfm>. Prior to completing the form, be sure to have access to the following information, as your registration will not be completed without it:
 - a. Name of organization
 - b. Full name and contact information of supervising attorney (including address phone & email contact)
 - c. SHU ID
 - d. GPA
 - e. Name of course to drop if registration would put you over the credit limit

The externship credits will be added to your semester schedule, unless you are not approved and would be contacted by the Director of Externship Programs, Professor Lori Borgen. After reviewing the externship academic requirements, if you are uncertain of whether you are academically eligible, please see Professor Borgen in advance for guidance.

ADVANCED WRITING REQUIREMENT

All students are required to fulfill a substantial writing requirement for graduation. The following courses offered will fulfill this requirement. The courses listed are the only courses offered during the Fall 2021 semester which will fulfill the Advanced Writing Requirement.

COURSE	PROFESSOR
Advanced Federal Income Taxation	Winchester
Law & Politics in the Biden Administration's Foreign Policy	Lewis
Law & Technologies of Life	Bernstein
Legal & Ethical Issues in Medicine	Ragone
Public Health Law	Coleman
Religion and the First Amendment	Carmella
Systemic Issues in Criminal Law & Procedures	Murray

NOTE: Students who enroll in the above courses must meet AWR standards even if they do not need AWR certification.

For all papers which are intended to satisfy the Advanced Writing Requirement, the professor must agree that the topic is appropriate for advanced legal writing credit. After completion of the paper, the professor must certify to the Assistant Dean for Academic Services that the paper satisfies the Advanced Writing Requirement. At the option of the professor, this certification may be based on revisions which are made after the student has received a final grade in the seminar. Revisions made after the conclusion of the seminar shall not result in any change in the final grade.

The following also qualify for the Advanced Writing Requirement:

Students may receive AWR certification for comments written for any of the three journals: Law Review, Legislative Journal and Circuit Review. The faculty member supervising the comment must certify that the comment satisfies the AWR requirement as specified on our website.

CURRICULUM PLANNING

Persuasion and Advocacy is a prerequisite for the advanced litigation and transactional legal practice courses, and students who are interested in further developing their skills for legal practice should take Persuasion and Advocacy early enough in their law school career to allow room for these advanced courses. To enroll in Advanced Civil Practice and Advanced Criminal Practice, students must also have completed Evidence course. Advanced Civil Practice or Advanced Criminal Practice is a pre/corequisite for either Trial of a Civil Matter or Trial of a Criminal Case.

To enroll in most clinical courses, students must first complete courses in Persuasion and Advocacy, Evidence, and Professional Responsibility.

Some legal practice courses are only offered once per year, while others may be offered only in alternating years. Thus, students should plan ahead for legal practice courses. In addition, other advanced legal practice courses may be added to the curriculum in future semesters.

LIMIT ON LEGAL PRACTICE AND SELF-DIRECTED WORK CREDITS

No more than 15 credits of legal practice and self-directed work credits shall count towards graduation. This would include legal practice courses (excluding Persuasion and Advocacy), externships, moot court (excluding Appellate Advocacy), Independent Research, and clinics (non-classroom component only). Journal credits are not included in the limitation.

EQUIVALENCY COURSES

There are a number of courses which have substantial overlap in course coverage, and as a result, not all may be counted towards degree requirements.

CLASS ATTENDANCE POLICY

The Law School has a mandatory Class Attendance Policy which calls for students to attend a minimum of 75% of class sessions in a course or be administratively withdrawn from the course. No excused absences are permitted. An absence for any reason, including late registration, counts towards the maximum of 25% absences allowed.
