

Seton Hall Law and Rutgers School of Law- Newark will host Discover Law Day on Saturday, February 12, 2011 in Newark, New Jersey.

This program is part of a month-long program sponsored by the Law School Admissions Council (LSAC).

DiscoverLaw.org is an LSAC initiative to encourage racially and ethnically diverse students to discover career opportunities in law. The DiscoverLaw.org Web site provides students with resources, tips and tools on how to become a competitive law school applicant.

Discover Law Day is designed for diverse students to learn from current law students, admissions officers and faculty about how to choose a path, as an undergraduate, that will help them succeed. There will be panels consisting of alumni and current students from every participating law school.

While all undergraduates are invited to attend Discover Law Day, this program may be particularly helpful to freshmen and sophomore diverse students who want a jump start on thinking about law school.

Schedule

10:00 to 10:15 a.m.	Welcome to Discover Law Day
10:15 to 11:00	Keynote Speaker: Aney Chandy, Senior Labor & Employment Counsel, Toys R. Us, Inc. President, Asian Pacific America Law Association
11:00 to 11:30	What is Law School Like? Pre-preparing students for the Mock Class, and Introduction to the Summer Institute for Pre-Legal Studies
11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.	Lunch/Prepare for Class
12:15 to 12:45	Mock Class
12:45 to 1:30	The Road Ahead: Preparing for the Admissions Process
1:30 to 2:00	Show Me The Money!: Financial Planning for the Future
2:00 to 2:15	Cocoa Break!
2:15 to 3:00	Ask a Law Student: Rutgers Law and Seton Hall Law students