

Gavin Holzman, Director, Nevis Security LTD

Gavin Holzman is a commercial and go-to-market leader with over 15 years of experience driving growth across cybersecurity, digital identity, fintech, and iGaming. He leads the US, UK and Ireland for Nevis, a customer identity and access management provider supporting highly regulated industries including financial services, insurance, government and online gaming.

He has built and scaled enterprise sales organizations from inception, led market entry into new regions, and driven sustained revenue growth across complex, regulated environments. Gavin led the UK market launch for Nevis, establishing operations, securing early enterprise customers, and positioning the business for broader international expansion.

With deep experience in regulated gaming, he works closely with regulators and compliance leaders to address evolving requirements while safeguarding commercial performance and patron experience. He partners cross-functionally with product and engineering teams to ensure identity, authentication, and fraud strategies align with both regulatory expectations and real-world operational demands.
