

Madison Mackenzie, Director of Regulatory Affairs, North Carolina State Lottery Commission

Madison Mackenzie serves as Director of Regulatory Affairs for the Regulated Gaming Division of the North Carolina State Lottery Commission. In this role, Madison oversees the audits and investigations of gaming operators to ensure compliance with all state gaming laws and regulations. Additionally, she provides legal services and advice to support the agency's regulatory functions.

Madison has over a decade of experience in public sector law, having held key legal roles in the areas of occupational licensing, public health regulation, and healthcare fraud and abuse. Madison has extensive experience navigating complex regulatory environments, advising state agencies on statutory and administrative requirements, and litigating on behalf of the state in administrative hearings.

Previously, Madison was the Commission's Senior Attorney, providing legal guidance on administrative law, policy development, and agency regulatory operations.

Madison earned her juris doctorate, magna cum laude, from North Carolina Central University School of Law and holds dual bachelor's degrees in psychology and criminal justice from Appalachian State University.