

Marc Comella, Chief Compliance Officer, Mohegan Sun

Seasoned executive with deep experience in gaming, hospitality, and technology, currently serving as Chief Compliance Officer at Mohegan. Since 2017, I've led global gaming compliance efforts across Mohegan's land-based and digital operations—driving strategic growth, managing regulatory risk, and reinforcing the company's reputation for integrity and ethical leadership. My expertise spans anti-money laundering (AML), Responsible Gambling, risk management, and regulatory affairs, partnering directly with CEOs and executive teams to embed compliance into core business strategy and operations. I also chair the Compliance

Committee at Galaxy Gaming Inc., a public company that develops and distributes proprietary casino table games, electronic wagering platforms, and bonusing systems for land-based, riverboat, cruise ship, and online gaming operators worldwide. Previously, I spent 25 years at Scientific Games (formerly Bally Technologies) in multiple executive roles, leading global regulatory compliance across 300+ jurisdictions, managing M&A integrations, and delivering operational turnarounds that drove strong EBITDA growth. Earlier in my career, I held leadership roles in IT, product development, and data systems at Bally's Reno, Tropicana, and Caesars — experience that continues to shape my approach to innovation, governance, and compliance leadership today. I take pride in building strong partnerships with internal and external stakeholders, where collaboration drives both compliance and performance.