

DISTINGUISHED PRACTITIONER OF LAW LECTURE A Cyber Wall Around Europe: The New EU General Data Protection Regulation and What it Means for America

Monday, February 12, 2018
Biographies

JEREMY FEIGELSON, ESQ.

Distinguished Practitioner of International Law

Jeremy Feigelson, a litigation partner, is Co-Chair of the firm's Cybersecurity & Data Privacy practice and is a member of the firm's Intellectual Property and Media Group. He frequently represents clients in litigations and government investigations that involve the Internet and new technologies. His practice includes litigation and counseling on cybersecurity, data privacy, trademark, false advertising, copyright, and defamation matters. Mr. Feigelson has a broad and active practice in financial services matters, including securities litigation, investment management disputes and counseling of fund boards, the conduct of internal reviews, defense of government investigations, and complex commercial litigation. In 2015, Law360 recognized him as a "Privacy MVP," and The National Law Journal named him a Cybersecurity & Data Privacy "Trailblazer." Similarly, World Trademark Review 1000 recognizes Mr. Feigelson for Intellectual Property Enforcement and Litigation (2016 - 2017), where he was lauded for his work for brands in the Internet and emerging technologies space; and Managing Intellectual Property named him an "IP Star" in 2015. He is recommended for Technology: Data Protection and Privacy as well as Sport in The Legal 500 US (2015).

Mr. Feigelson regularly speaks and writes on legal issues involving intellectual property, technology and privacy. He has served on the Communications Law Committee of the New York City Bar Association and the Special Committee on Cyberspace Law of the New York State Bar Association. His recent publications include "New York State Department Of Financial Services Expands Its Cyber Focus To Insurers," FC&S Legal (April, 2015), "Cyber Security: The Burden Approaches the Boardroom," NACD Directorship (October, 2013) and "United States v. Hamilton," E-Commerce Law Reports (May, 2013).

Mr. Feigelson joined Debevoise in 1992 and became a partner in 2001. He received his A.B. magna cum laude from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs in 1984. He received his J.D. cum laude from the University of Chicago Law School in 1991, where he was admitted to the Order of the Coif and served as Articles Editor of the Law Review. From 1991 to 1992, he served as law clerk to the Hon. Milton I. Shadur, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois.

Mr. Feigelson has a longstanding commitment to public service. Prior to law school, he worked in a variety of positions in the administration of Mayor Edward I. Koch of New York City. From 2011 to 2014 he chaired the Government Ethics Committee of the New York City Bar Association. He chairs the Board of Directors of the Partnership for the Homeless and serves as a Trustee of the Citizens Budget Commission, on the Leadership Council of the Committee to Protect Journalists, and on the Advisory Board of the Center for the Advancement of Public Integrity.

TRACY KAYE

Professor of Law

Professor Tracy Kaye, the Co-Director of the IRS Chief Counsel's Externship Program and the Dean Acheson Legal Stage Program, specializes in federal income, international and comparative tax law.

During the fall of 2014, Professor Kaye was the Fulbright Senior Research Scholar at the University of Luxembourg where she examined the implications of automatic exchange of information. She was the PwC Visiting Professor at the Vienna University of Economics and Business in the summer of 2012, where her research resulted in an article entitled Innovations in the War on Tax Evasion. Published in the Brigham Young University Law Review, this article explored the impact of the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, particularly on the European Union Member States. After her visit as a scholar at the Max Planck Institute for Intellectual Property, Competition and Tax Law in Munich, Germany, her research was selected for the 3rd annual Comparative Law Work-in-Progress Workshop at the University of Michigan Law School in May, 2008. Her resulting article, The Gentle Art of Corporate Seduction: Tax Incentives in the United States and the European Union was published in the University of Kansas Law Review. She has also written on tax discrimination and direct taxation in the European Union.

Professor Kaye is currently the Chair of the Academia Committee of the International Fiscal Association (IFA) USA Branch. She is also the Co-Director of Seton Hall Law School's Dean Acheson Legal Stage Program, sponsored by the Court of Justice of the European Union and the American Embassy in Luxembourg to promote understanding of European Union Law among American lawyers. During 1998, she was the Director of the Seton Hall "Law in Italy" program. She has been a visiting professor at the Universities of Indiana, Illinois, Freiburg, and Leiden, as well as Renmin University of China Law School and the University of International Business and Economics, School of Law, in Beijing. In spring 2002, she was a Fulbright Senior Scholar at the Albert-Ludwigs-Universitat in Freiburg, Germany. She is also an Associate Member of the European Association of Tax Law Professors.

Prior to beginning her academic career at Seton Hall Law School in 1991, Professor Kaye studied law and taxation at the Universities of Georgetown, DePaul and Illinois. She earned a B.S. in Accountancy, magna cum laude, at the University of Illinois; an M.S. in Taxation at DePaul University; and her J.D., cum laude, at the Georgetown University Law Center. She worked as a tax legislative advisor for a U.S. Senator, who was a member of the Senate Finance Committee, and practiced and taught tax for Arthur Young & Co. (d.b.a. EY) in Chicago, Boston, and Washington, D.C. She has been selected as a Fellow of the American College of Tax Counsel and serves as the Regent for the Third Circuit on the Board of Regents.