Andrea Celis Bohorquez

Legal, Ethics & Compliance Manager

Novo Nordisk Colombia

Andrea Celis is a legal, ethics and compliance leader with extensive experience in the pharmaceutical industry and regulated healthcare environments in Colombia. She currently serves as Legal, Ethics & Compliance Manager at Novo Nordisk Colombia, where she leads the affiliate's compliance agenda, advises cross-functional stakeholders, oversees risk-based monitoring, audits, training, third-party interactions and investigations, and serves as the affiliate's Data Protection Responsible.

Andrea previously served as Corporate Counsel in Novo Nordisk's headquarters in Denmark and has also advised multiple pharmaceutical companies as external legal and compliance counsel. Her expertise includes compliance-program implementation and continuous improvement, anti-corruption and business-ethics risk assessment, compliance-by-design, data protection, remediation and governance.

She holds a Master of Laws and a Bachelor of Laws from the University of Los Andes in Bogotá, as well as specialized training in compliance, corporate governance, corruption prevention and Colombia's SAGRILAF framework.
