With over twenty years of experience in advising clients in the Healthcare & Life Sciences industries, Annabelle Bruyndonckx is recognized as one of the leading sector lawyers in Belgium.

Strongly focused on medtech and the digitalization of (consumer) health care, Ms. Bruyndonckx assists international pharmaceutical and biotech companies and global medical device manufacturers, as well as food supplements and cosmetic businesses. A litigation specialist and regulatory expert, her practice covers all parts of regulated products' life cycle from R&D to marketing authorization/CE marking, qualification issues, pricing and reimbursement, manufacture and distribution, pricing and reimbursement, public procurement, advertising, compliance, and product liability.

Ms. Bruyndonckx heads the Education Group of Healixia, the Belgian community of professionals involved in the lifecycle of medicines, medical devices, in vitro diagnostics, and other health-related products. She is a regular speaker at international health care and life sciences conferences.
