Audrey F. DeGuarde, MSJ, is a senior compliance executive with more than 15 years of experience supporting life sciences companies in navigating the complex and evolving regulatory landscape. As Vice President of Compliance Operations at RLDatix Life Sciences (formerly Porzio Life Sciences), she leads the organization's compliance strategy and service delivery, with deep expertise in global transparency reporting, HCP engagement, and regulatory operations.

Audrey plays a central role in partnering with clients to design, refine, and deliver effective compliance solutions. Her approach is grounded in collaboration, working closely with companies to translate regulatory and compliance requirements into practical, scalable solutions.

Over her career, Audrey has evolved from a subject matter expert into a strategic leader responsible for the direction and execution of RLDatix Life Sciences' compliance service offerings. She oversees multidisciplinary teams, guides cross-functional initiatives, and drives continuous improvement across service lines to ensure alignment with both client priorities and regulatory developments.

Recognized as a thought leader in the field, Audrey regularly engages with life sciences stakeholders through advisory sessions and industry forums, sharing insights on emerging trends, operational best practices, and the future of compliance.

She holds a Master of Science in Jurisprudence in Health Law and Compliance from Seton Hall University School of Law and a Bachelor of Arts from Rutgers College.
