Brian threw away his dreams of being a comedian to spend his nights in casinos. After a 14 year battle with gambling and relapses, he decided to try another way-TALKING about his FEELINGS. In January of 2015 he started the world's first gambling addiction podcast. Since that time the podcast has grown to over 350 episodes with interviews from the lived experience community, affected others, clinicians, academics, advocates, public health workers, and industry officials. He speaks from the heart about his own recovery and hopes it helps. #talkinghelps
