

SETON HALL | LAW

Healthcare Compliance
Certificate Program

George Fife

Partner, Compliance, Forensic & Integrity Services
Ernst & Young (EY) (Paris)
George.Fife@fr.ey.com

George Fife is a Partner with Ernst & Young's (EY) - Compliance, Forensic & Integrity Services practice. He is the Market Leader for the Western Europe, Maghreb and French Speaking Africa region.

George specializes in assisting companies with global risk and compliance assessments and investigations.

George works closely with management teams, chief compliance officers, general counsels, chief audit executives and Audit Committees to identify enforcement risks, determine potential vulnerabilities and recommend solutions to prevent, detect and respond to compliance risks and frauds.

George is a compliance and ethics professional with more than 20 years of in-house compliance life science experience.

He has first-hand international experience in building, managing and assessing effectiveness of compliance programs, in the area of anti-corruption and anti-bribery (such as US FCPA, UK Bribery Act, Italy d.lgs 231/01, French Sapin II...) amongst others, embedding data science and analytics into monitoring, responding to investigations, designing cutting-edge compliance solutions (policies & procedures, education & training, monitoring and auditing, whistleblowing and investigations) in anticipation of emerging risk areas. He assists clients to develop pragmatically their Governance and Compliance programs based on company culture and level of maturity.

He also specializes in M&A transaction forensics due diligence pre and post-acquisition as well as on forensic investigations, third-parties compliance program and Transparency. He is also ISO 37001 Lead Auditor certified.

George has been nominated in 2020, 2021, 2022 by Who's Who Legal as one of the Leading Experts in Forensic Investigations, both at Global level across EMEA and in France (<https://whoswholegal.com/george-fife>).