Giovanna Scheleder is a Senior Manager in the EY Life Sciences Forensic practice where she focuses on the health and life sciences industries. Over her 10+ years with EY, Giovanna has managed engagements such as investigations, distributor audits, risk assessments and pre and post-acquisition due diligence over 15 global markets.

Giovanna has managed several investigations of life sciences entities focused on financial wrongdoings, inappropriate reporting and conflict of interest, as well as wrongdoings regarding payments to healthcare professionals. Several investigations were conducted with the support of law firms.

Giovanna has international experience with audits and monitoring with focus on data analytics through Power BI, where she identified outliers and trends that provided guidance for sample selections.

Giovanna has managed a post transaction ABAC due diligence project, designing the work program and managing a 50+ team throughout 12 countries for a large life sciences company. Giovanna has also completed risk assessment projects, control framework analysis, compliance structure assessment and investigations related financial reporting and regulatory matters.

Giovanna holds a Bachelor's Degree in Economics and another one in Accounting.
