Professional Experience

Henrique Kruger Frizzo joined the firm in 2004 and became a partner in 2014. He is the leader of the Life Sciences group and also a member of the Public and Regulatory Law and Energy, Mining, Petrochemicals, and Infrastructure groups, with a focus on consulting. He prepares legal opinions and provides legal advice on topics within his expertise, including public procurement and contracts, public service concession contracts, and public-private partnerships. He has experience in complex negotiations with the government and assists clients in structuring effective government relations. He also works to identify irregularities and illegalities in government contracts and relations and in the area of sales to defense and public security agencies, including the structuring of technology compensation agreements. Henrique is recognized for his work in Public Law and in the Life Sciences sector by major legal rankings, such as Chambers, LACCA Approved, Latin Lawyer 250, Latin Lawyer National, The Legal 500, Leaders League, and Análise Advocacia 500.

In the healthcare sector, he advises pharmaceutical, medical device and other companies in the sector on a wide range of matters, including transactions involving commercial agreements and complex negotiations with the government and technology transfer contracts in the healthcare sector. In addition, he advises clients on market access strategies, including procedures for incorporating new healthcare technologies into the SUS and ANS, as well as representing companies in administrative proceedings at CMED. He prepares consultations involving clinical research and regulatory matters, reviews promotional materials and acts in administrative litigation involving local health authorities and ANVISA. He also provides support on compliance issues, digital health and analysis of the constitutionality/legality of legislation. Due to his expertise, he participates in the drafting of bills and regulations for this industry.

Academic Background

He has a degree in Law from the University of São Paulo, specialized in State and Government from the School of Training for Governors, associated with the University of São Paulo, specialized in Contracts with the Government, from the Getúlio Vargas Foundation and has a University Extension course on Public-Private Partnership (PPP) from the Higher School of the Public Ministry of São Paulo.
