Holly Page

Co-Founder & Senior Advisor

No Labels

Panel: 3

Holly Page serves as Senior Advisor to No Labels. She has extensive experience working to advance the politics of the center – having begun her career as a fundraiser on the improbable 1992 Presidential campaign of Bill Clinton. Ms. Page has established herself as a trusted agent to organizations and individuals and as an original thinker with a proven track record of impact. Highlights include the creation of the nonprofit Dog Tag Bakery in Georgetown, organizing Nobel Peace Prize Winner Kailash Satyarthi's First U.S. tour including a historic event at the Lincoln Memorial, the creation of the first ever Presidential Online Town Hall and initiating what became the Presidential Leadership Scholars, a joint project of Former U.S. Presidents Clinton and Bush. Believing that a new politics is on the verge of emerging, and that the future of our democracy depends on it, she is honored to work with No labels and its leaders around the country to make it happen.
