

Jacqueline Grace, Senior Vice President & General Manager, Caesars Entertainment, Tropicana Atlantic City

Jacqueline Grace is a highly experienced operations and HR executive with more than 20 years of success leading people and operations across the financial services and hospitality industries. Viewed as a change agent with the ability to lead organizations through process and operational transformations, Jacqueline is a strong people leader with a focus on mentoring, coaching, and development.

Currently Senior Vice President and General Manager at Tropicana Atlantic City, Jacqueline is responsible for day-to-day property operations and provides strategic direction on all things from capital planning to employee engagement. In her role, Jacqueline partners with property leaders to ensure guests enjoy an unsurpassed visit and team members enjoy a work culture that reflects the company's Mission, Vision and Values.

In addition to property operations, Jacqueline has held previous roles in both marketing and HR leadership throughout her gaming career. Prior to joining the gaming industry, Jacqueline spent nine years on Wall Street and held management roles in both Technology and Diversity & Inclusion. A graduate of the University of Virginia Darden School, Jacqueline earned a Master of Business Administration degree. In addition, she received a Bachelor of Engineering degree in Electrical Engineering from Stony Brook University.

Jacqueline and her husband are parents of a curious, and funny seven-year-old boy and a spirited, ever-entertaining five-year-old girl. In her spare time, Jacqueline enjoys working out, writing and travel.