Kaz Poultney

*Head of Compliance for Asia Pacific Region
Amgen (Singapore)*

Kaz Poultney serves as Head of Compliance for the Asia Pacific region at Amgen, where she is responsible for overseeing the company's compliance strategy and operations across a diverse portfolio of markets. In this capacity, she provides strategic leadership in the development, implementation, and continuous enhancement of Amgen's regional compliance framework, ensuring alignment with global standards and local regulatory requirements.

Since joining Amgen eight years ago, Ms. Poultney has held a series of progressively senior roles in compliance and investigations. She has led initiatives to strengthen governance structures, enhance risk management processes, and promote a culture of integrity throughout the organization. Her approach emphasizes proactive risk identification, cross-functional collaboration, and sustainable compliance practices that support ethical business performance.

Prior to Amgen, Ms. Poultney worked in advisory and consulting roles with Ernst & Young (EY) and FTI Consulting, where she specialized in assisting multinational companies operating in emerging markets. Her work focused on compliance program design, regulatory risk assessments, and investigations, providing her with deep expertise in navigating complex legal and cultural environments.

Ms. Poultney is recognized for her commitment to advancing compliance excellence and fostering transparency, accountability, and ethical leadership across the life sciences sector. Based in Singapore, she contributes actively to industry and professional forums, promoting collaboration and the sharing of best practices among compliance leaders in the Asia-Pacific region.
