

SETON HALL | LAW

Healthcare Compliance
Certificate Program

Nicole Recchi Aun
Senior Associate, Life Sciences
Pinheiro Neto Advogados

Nicole Recchi Aun is a senior associate of the Life Sciences practice at Pinheiro Neto Advogados, where she has been active since 2011, mainly in the representation of clients in the health sector in Brazil. Her practice consists of legal and regulatory consultancy to companies operating in the market for drugs, health products, cosmetics, hygiene products, sanitizing products, food, pesticides, agricultural products, and beverages. The consultancy has various subjects of interest to the sector, with a focus on clinical trial, import and advertising of products regulated by ANVISA (National Health Surveillance Agency), digital health, innovation and health technologies, data privacy, compliance, productive development partnerships (PDPs) and technology transfer with public pharmaceutical companies, biotechnology, cultivar protection, biodiversity, M&A operations and corporate structuring of companies in the health sector, including startups. LL.B degree from PUC-SP (2010) and LL.M degree in Law, Science & Technology at Stanford Law School (2018).