Orlando Vidal is a regulation, investigations, and disputes lawyer based in the firm's Dubai office. As a former U.S. federal prosecutor (Assistant U.S. Attorney) and Foreign Resident Legal Advisor for the U.S. Department of Justice, he heads the firm's Middle East investigations practice.

Mr. Vidal represents clients in dispute resolution, including international arbitration; internal, government, and cross-border investigations; civil, criminal, and regulatory compliance, including global anti-bribery and anti-corruption and fraud prevention; international criminal matters; and asset tracing and recovery. He also represents clients before numerous dispute resolution forums: the Dubai International Financial Centre Courts; the Dubai World Tribunal; the Dubai International Arbitration Centre; U.S. federal and state trial and appellate courts; U.S. Congressional committees; U.S. federal, state, and local legislative and administrative bodies; and international tribunals and commissions.

Mr. Vidal's experience spans various industries, including energy; transport; infrastructure, mining, and commodities; financial institutions; government; life sciences and health care; manufacturing; real estate; retail; hotels; technology; and innovation. He has been recognized a Band 1 practitioner by both Chambers Global and Legal 500 EMEA for six consecutive years for his work in corporate investigations.
