

Rachel Thompson

Senior VP, Assistant General Counsel, Privacy, AI and Data Responsibility

Mastercard

Rachel Thompson is a Senior Vice President & Assistant General Counsel in Mastercard's Privacy, AI & Data Protection team. She leads privacy and data strategy and compliance across the Americas region and globally for corporate functions, M&A, Franchise, Marketing, and Mastercard's Identity business. With nearly two decades of experience advising on global privacy law and practice across Asia-Pacific, the United States, and Europe, Rachel has held legal roles in Australia, Hong Kong, and New York. She is an Australian-qualified lawyer with an LLB (Hons) and an LLM in Media & Technology Law, a Fellow of Information Privacy (CIPP/A, CIPP/US, CIPM, CIPPE), and holds a Graduate Certificate in Privacy Engineering from Carnegie Mellon University.