Ronan Tigner is a technology lawyer with a particular focus on privacy and data security. He counsels clients across a range of industries in contentious and non-contentious matters. His work includes assisting clients in regulatory dealings, implementing and auditing compliance programs, handling security incidents, and helping to embed privacy into clients' products and processes.

A former Magic Circle and Biglaw attorney, Mr. Tigner has recently set up his own practice. He provides expert support to individuals and organizations seeking guidance and solutions on flexible terms.

Mr. Tigner is a member of the Brussels Bar. He is bilingual in French and English and has a working knowledge of Dutch. He has contributed to many publications and is a frequent speaker at industry conferences.
