

Rosa Alves

Assistant Dean for Global Compliance & Programming
Seton Hall Law School

Rosa Alves serves as the Assistant Dean for Global Compliance & Programming at Seton Hall Law School where her responsibilities include oversight of the Center for Health & Pharmaceutical Law and its highly regarded domestic and global health care compliance programs. Dean Alves also manages and directs Seton Hall Law's Sports, Gaming and Hospitality Program. In addition, she develops educational programs and events that serve to elevate the Law School's standing within the greater legal community.

Prior to joining Seton Hall Law School, Dean Alves was the Associate Dean for Administration & External Affairs at Seton Hall University's School of Diplomacy & International Relations. Before entering academia, she was an associate attorney in Newark, NJ. Dean Alves received her B.A. from Seton Hall University and earned her J.D. from New York Law School.