

SETON HALL | LAW

Seton Hall Legislative Journal Symposium
Ballots and Democracy: A New Scholarly Agenda
Friday, February 24, 2023

Sue Altman

State Director of the NJ Working Families Party

Sue Altman is the State Director of the NJ Working Families Party, a position she has held since early 2019. She holds two master's degrees from the University of Oxford, UK, and a BA from Columbia University in New York, where she starred on the women's basketball team. She lived in Camden, NJ for eight years and recently moved to Lambertville, NJ. She grew up in Hunterdon County, NJ and is a proud product of NJ's stellar public education system.