

Zach Zarnoch, Chief Compliance Officer, Foxwoods Resort Casino

Zach Zarnoch currently serves as the Chief Compliance Officer at Foxwoods Resort Casino in Mashantucket, Connecticut, where he oversees all aspects of the property's AML operations. Zach has over 15 years of compliance experience in numerous jurisdictions, including past roles overseeing AML compliance for a portfolio of over 20 regional and destination casinos throughout the country. During his career, Zach has designed and implemented both single-property and corporate-wide AML and KYC programs. Zach has successfully remediated properties that were under IRS or FinCEN investigation, using his experience to build strong cultures of compliance to drive organizational change in improving AML compliance. With a strong background in casino operations, Zach is able to effectively balance the requirements of AML compliance with the operational realities and challenges present within the casino space, setting expectations that are relatable to both executive leadership and front line team members.