TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Seton Hall University School of Law, Newark, NJ – 1995-present

Professor of Law and Director, Center for Social Justice (July 2006-present)

Associate Professor of Law (1999-2006)

Clinical Assistant Professor of Law (1995-1999)

Director of Center for Social Justice housing eight clinics, a large pro bono program, an Urban Revitalization Initiative, and an International Human Rights/Rule of Law Initiative. As Director, I have conceptualized and implemented new initiatives, and overseen the Center's ongoing litigation, policy and advocacy efforts. Under my direction, the Center for Social Justice sought and secured new funding and experienced significant growth. Successful new initiatives included a CSJ Scholars Program (to train outstanding public-interest law students), a CSJ Clinical Teaching Fellows Program (to mentor public interest attorneys seeking to transition to clinical teaching), new cross-border collaborative clinical projects with the University of Sofia, Bulgaria; L'Ecole Superieure Catholique de Droit de Jeremie in Haiti; El Instituto de Derechos Humanos Bartolome de la Casa, Universidad Carlos III, Madrid, Spain; the University of Valencia, Spain; Rafael Landivar University, Quetzaltenango, Guatemala, and Casa Alianza, Managua, Nicaragua.

Professor in the Immigrants' Rights/International Human Rights Clinic. I teach lawyering skills and supervise law students in immigration cases and international human rights projects and litigation. Under my direction, the clinic has litigated and won significant cases in various areas including political asylum and Article 3 of the United Nations Convention Against Torture and released ground-breaking reports with wide media attention on hospital deportations of vulnerable immigrants, the need for broader employment rights for asylum seekers, and wage theft amongst day laborers in New Jersey.

Other Courses Taught: Gender and the Law, Immigration and Naturalization Law, Selected Topics in Immigration Law (advanced comparative refugee law), International Human Rights Law; Transnational Lawyering Skills: Rule of Law in Guatemala, Transnational Lawyering Skills: Rule of Law in Nicaragua, Interviewing and Counseling; Intro to Torts (online MSJ program).

International Teaching and Research Experience: As a Fulbright Senior Scholar, I spent 6 months conducting comparative refugee and immigration law research at the Instituto Universitario de Estudios sobre Migraciones de la Universidad Pontificia Comillas in Madrid, Spain (July 2007-January 2008). I have taught courses in International Human Rights Law as part of Seton Hall Law School's intersession and summer programs in Chamonix/Geneva and in Italy. As Director of Seton Hall Law School's Haiti Rule of Law Program, I am involved in leading annual delegations of faculty and students to Haiti and have lectured on International Women's Human Rights, Human Rights and Clinical Practice and Interviewing and Counseling Skills at L'Ecole Superieure Catholique de Droit de Jeremie. Other international experience includes providing clinical trainings for law faculty at Carlos III University in Madrid and the University of Valencia, Spain and traveling to Guatemala and Nicaragua to develop and lead new Rule of Law programs.

Service: Faculty Director, Center for Social Justice (houses clinical and pro bono programs at SHLS); Member of Peer Review Panel for Fulbright Scholar Awards for Spain, Malta and Portugal 2008-2011; Faculty Supervisor for Haiti Rule of Law Project, SHLS; Service on numerous Law School committees including: the contract renewal committee (chair); two ABA self-study committees; graduation committee (chair); budget committee; rank and tenure committee; curriculum committee; and probation and grievance committee.

EDUCATION

CUNY School of Law at Queens College, Queens, New York
J.D., May 1992.

Awards: Skadden Arps Public Interest Law Fellowship. I was one of only twenty five nationwide recipients of this two year fellowship, based on my proposal to represent migrant farm workers in New York State. I was also selected as CUNY Law School delegate for comparative legal studies trip to Cuba in June 1990.

University of California at Santa Cruz, Santa Cruz, CA
B.A., March 1987; majored in Latin American Studies
Honors on oral exams; awarded President's Undergraduate Fellowship, 1985.

OTHER PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Koob & Magoolaghan, New York, NY, 1994 to 1995

Associate Attorney: Individual responsibility for representing plaintiffs in civil rights actions and for working as part of a litigation team on complex federal, state and administrative civil rights litigation. Areas of practice included employment discrimination; police brutality; prisoners' rights; and special education. I was engaged in all aspects of litigation: pleadings, discovery, including depositions, trial preparation and strategy planning, examination of witnesses at trial, and both trial and appellate briefing.

Farmworker Legal Services, New Paltz, NY, 1992 to 1994

Staff Attorney: As a Skadden fellow, I represented migrant farmworkers in education, civil rights, employment discrimination, housing and unemployment compensation cases, as well as cases arising under the Agricultural Worker Protection Act (AWPA). Involved in all aspects of client representation in varied forums including client outreach at migrant labor camps; administrative hearings and litigation in federal and state courts. Federal court litigation experience included acting as lead counsel in a novel case involving sexual harassment and violations of AWPA and serving as co-counsel in a class action unlawful search and seizure case. I drafted and filed pleadings; briefed and argued motions, handled all stages of discovery including depositions, as well as complex settlement negotiations. State court experience included co-counseling contempt case brought against a health department for its willful failure to enforce health code violations at migrant labor camps. I was also involved in community legal education including speaking on bilingual education and civil rights matters at conferences, parent associations and governmental forums.
