CAMPUS SECURITY AND FIRE SAFETY REPORT
2016 REPORT – Calendar Year 2015
Seton Hall University – Law School

This report is published annually in compliance with the United States Code Section 1092 (f) the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Statistics Act (hereinafter referred to as the Campus Security Act) and the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR).

The Seton Hall Law School is located at 1109 Raymond Blvd, Newark, N.J. It has approximately 730 students and approximately 150 faculty and staff. It is located in an office complex in downtown Newark. There are no residential facilities. The Law School is part of Seton Hall University, and students at the Law School have access to many of the services and educational programs provided at the University's South Orange campus.

The Department of Public Safety and Security takes the issue of campus safety seriously. Safety is a shared responsibility that involves all members of the community. It is hoped that the information about safety and security programs contained in this report will be valuable in this pursuit.

CAMPUS SECURITY ACT

This law requires all colleges and universities receiving Title IV funds to:

- Collect, classify and count crime reports and crime statistics for specific crimes (Clery Crimes).
- Issue campus alerts in the event of an emergency and/or an ongoing threat to the safety of the campus community.
- Publish an annual report that must contain crime statistics for three years and certain campus safety policy statements and information.
- Submit crime statistics to the Department of Education by October 1st of each year.
- Maintain a daily crime log open to public inspection.
- Disclose missing student notification procedures for resident students.
- Disclose fire safety information for residence facilities via maintenance of a fire log, publishing of annual fire safety report, and submit fire statistics to the Department of Education by October 1st of each year.

Note: The University will not retaliate or allow any retaliation toward a person(s) who reports alleged violations of the Act.

LOCATION INFORMATION

Campus Location

The Seton Hall Law School is located on a separate campus at 1109 Raymond Blvd, Newark, N.J. It has approximately 730 students and approximately 150 faculty and staff. It is located in an office complex in downtown Newark. There are no residential facilities.

Reporting Locations/Clery Geography

On Campus includes the building located at 1109 Raymond Blvd., Newark, N.J.

Non Campus, as defined by the Campus Security Act, includes any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by the institution; or any building or property owned or controlled by an institution that is used in direct support of, or in relation to, the institution's educational purposes, is frequently used by students, and is not within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of the institution.

Public Property, as defined by the Campus Security Act, includes thoroughfares, streets, sidewalks, parking facilities, and public park or park-like settings immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus.

Facility Access

At the Law School, the physical condition of the building is monitored by the Department of Facilities Engineering and requests of a security nature (keys, etc.) are coordinated through the Security Manger. Electronic surveillance systems monitor Law School property as well as adjacent areas of public property. Public Safety personnel check all persons entering through a check point at the security desk adjacent to the main entrance.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE

Emergency Response Plan - The University has a comprehensive Emergency Preparedness and Response Plan. The Plan details the processes and communications for a successful response to, and recovery from, an emergency incident.

Public Safety & Security administrators and security managers have received training in Incident Command and Responding to Critical Incidents on campus. Depending upon the nature of the incident, other University departments and other local, state or federal agencies could also be involved in responding to the incident.

Q for Tom

General information about the emergency response and evacuation procedures are part of the University's Campus Security Act compliance efforts and is available on the Public Safety & Security website at: <http://www.shu.edu/offices/public-safety/emergency-preparedness.cfm>. Specific information about the Emergency Operations Plan for the Law School can be accessed through the Law School Security website at: <http://law.shu.edu/Students/life/Security.cfm>.

The Emergency Response Plan is tested at least annually through a structured tabletop exercise. The results of the exercises are analyzed and reported to the Vice President for Student Services.

Emergency Notification Systems – The Law School maintains the following emergency notification systems:

PirateAlert System:

This is the University's electronic mass notification system through which warnings and instructions are transmitted to the University community via cellular voice, cellular text, landline telephone, and e-mail. All SHU community members are automatically registered to receive e-mail messages and are urged to register with PirateAlert to receive messages through the other modes. In addition, all community members who provide a cell phone number as part of their application automatically have that number entered into the system. PirateAlert is used throughout an emergency event to alert and warn the community of an impending or occurring hazard, to provide instructions such as “shelter-in-place”, or to inform the community when the hazard has been abated. The system is tested twice per year in a pre-announced test.

Emergency Intercom System:

The Emergency Intercom System can be heard throughout the building, including in individual classrooms. It may be used in combination with or separate from other emergency notification systems as determined by the Public Safety personnel on the scene.

Fire Alarm Systems:

The Law School is equipped with fire detection and alarm systems that activate automatically when heat or smoke conditions occur within the facility. Fire alarm systems can also be triggered manually by building occupants or Public Safety personnel when indications of a fire, indoor hazardous materials incident, or other localized hazards are detected. All SHU community members are trained through fire safety programs to immediately evacuate when the fire alarm system activates.

Route Alerting:

For situations in which the University’s electronic notification systems have been rendered inoperative or are believed to be ineffective, Public Safety personnel and trained volunteers including SHU Law School Fire Floor Captains are dispatched to specific locations within the building to alert, guide, and provide emergency instructions directly to the Law School community. Route alerting may also be used for situations in which the use of mass notification systems are not required such as localized incidents. Evacuation procedures/routes are disseminated yearly to Law School community members.

SHU Web Site and E-mail Alerts:

For emergency events for which there is adequate warning time to alert the SHU community, warnings and detailed emergency instructions may be posted on the SHU web site and broadcast via E-mail Community Alerts. A SHU Emergency Web Site can also be activated to replace the regular web site during emergency events.

Testing Emergency Response and Evacuation Procedures – An evacuation drill is conducted by Public Safety at least once per year in all non-residential buildings. Students are instructed as to the locations of emergency exits and provided guidance about the directions they should travel when exiting each facility for a short-term building evacuation. Evacuation drills are not announced in advance. Public Safety personnel on the scene will communicate information to students regarding the developing situation or any evacuation status changes.

Notification to the Larger Community - An emergency affecting the SHU community would generate concern from groups beyond the individual location. Emergency notification may be disseminated to the larger community through the University website and local, regional, or national media.

TIMELY WARNING & EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION

Timely Warning – shall be issued whenever a Clery Crime that is considered to represent an ongoing or continuing serious threat to students and employees is reported to Public Safety or to local law enforcement and has occurred within the University’s Clery Geography. Whenever a timely warning is sent, it may be sent to the entire campus community or to the relevant population if technology allows.

Emergency Notification – shall be issued when a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurs on the campus. As appropriate, emergency notifications may be targeted at only a segment or segments of the campus community that is at risk. Emergency notifications will be issued without delay unless doing so would compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

Anyone who becomes aware of a situation which may require the issuing of a Timely Warning or Emergency Notification is instructed to notify Public Safety immediately.

Issuing a Timely Warning

The Vice President for Student Services, or designee, in conjunction with the Associate Dean for Academics of the Law School, or designee, will determine the need and content for a Timely Warning based upon and as soon as the pertinent information is available. The Warning may be issued via any of the Emergency Notification Systems listed above. The exact system(s) used will be determined by the nature of the incident. Similarly, the Warning may be sent to the entire campus community or to a segment of the community as determined by the nature of the incident. The Vice President for Student Services, or designee, will write the content of the Warning, determine the system(s) used, to whom it will be sent. The Assistant Director for Emergency Management and the Associate Director for Public Safety have both been trained in the administration of all Emergency Notification Systems, and will be instructed by the Assistant Vice President for Public Safety to issue the determined Warning.

Issuing an Emergency Notification

Upon confirmation by a Public Safety officer that an immediate emergency situation exists, the senior officer on site will direct the use of the Emergency Siren System and/or Fire Alarm System, as determined by the nature and location of the emergency. Subsequent notifications, and for other emergency or dangerous situations, the Vice President for Student Services in conjunction with the Associate Dean for Academics of the Law School will determine the content of the notifications and the Emergency Notification Systems to be used.

Security Awareness & Crime Prevention – The Law School encourages all members of the community to be active participants in the prevention of crime. Students from the Law School are welcome to avail themselves of any educational program provided on the South Orange campus. Of particular note is the Rape Aggression Defense – R.A.D. Seton Hall University offers free RAD training taught by our own certified instructors for female members of the University community four to six times per year. It is a realistic course that teaches self-defense tactics and techniques. For more information visit: <http://www.shu.edu/offices/public-safety/rad-training.cfm>.

At the Law School there is daily shuttle service to various locations in the greater downtown area, provided from 6:00pm – 1:00am (5:00pm – 1:00am during EST) when classes are in session. Students are also encouraged to take advantage of the New Jersey Transit Light Rail Service, especially during the daytime hours when the shuttle is not in service.

SAFETY AND SECURITY RESPONSIBILITY

The safety of our campus and community is a responsibility shared by all of us. While this is led by the Department of Public Safety and Security, there are other key areas who contribute significantly to our efforts.

Department of Public Safety and Security

Security at the Law School is managed by a Department of Public Safety administrator who oversees a staff comprised of members of a contract guard service. Security Officers are not armed and are not sworn law enforcement personnel. Security at the Law School is provided 24-hours per day, 7 days per week, and 365 days per year. Alarm monitoring/response, CCTV surveillance, medical emergency response (CPR/AED trained) and general customer service are among the many tasks provided by the Security Officers. There is a Building Access Policy (see link below). The policies and procedures in effect at the Law School mirror those on the South Orange campus ensuring continuity and accountability in security services. Public Safety personnel have developed close working relationships with the Newark Police and other local law enforcement agencies. Seton Hall Law School has no formal memorandum of understanding with any law enforcement agency.
<http://law.shu.edu/Students/life/upload/Building-Access-Policy.pdf>.

The Department of Public Safety and Security is located on the 1st floor, room 105.

Facilities & Engineering

At the Law School, the physical condition of the building is monitored by the Department of Facilities Engineering and requests of a security nature (keys, etc.) are coordinated through the Security Manger. Electronic surveillance systems monitor Law School property as well as adjacent areas of public property. Public Safety personnel check all persons entering through a check point at the security desk adjacent to the main entrance.

GOOD SAMARITAN POLICY

While students at the Law School are generally over the age of 21, the University includes information about the Good Samaritan Policy in compliance with New Jersey state law.

Student health and safety are fundamental to our community. Whenever there is concern for another student or belief that assistance is needed, students are expected to contact Public Safety. In the case of a medical emergency, students should immediately call 911.

Students who seek medical assistance for themselves or for an individual who is intoxicated or experiencing an alcohol-related emergency will not be subject to University disciplinary action related to the alcohol policy. Furthermore, the intoxicated student who receives medical assistance will not be subject to University disciplinary action.

When an incident that falls under the Good Samaritan Policy occurs, the student(s) involved will be required to meet with the Office of the Assistant Dean for Student Services to review the matter. While no formal disciplinary sanction (i.e. Probation) will be applied, an appropriate educational response may be. This may include participation in an educational class, mandated counseling assessment, additional fee for ambulance service, and/or parental notification. Failure to complete the educational requirements will result in referral to the University discipline system.

The following is also of important note:

- Other violations of the Student Code related to the same incident may be referred for disciplinary review and sanction.
- A student involved in more than one incident that falls under the Good Samaritan Policy may be subject to disciplinary sanction.
- Students may still be subject to local and state law for their behavior.
- The University reserves the right to review each incident on a case by case basis.

ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUGS

The possession, sale, or the furnishing of alcohol on the University campus is governed by University policy and New Jersey state law. The enforcement of policies on campus is the responsibility of the Housing & Residence Life staff and Public Safety & Security personnel.

Per New Jersey state law it is unlawful to sell, furnish, or provide alcohol to a person under the age of 21. The possession of alcohol by anyone under 21 years of age is illegal. The University policy mirrors state law and further restricts the possession and use of alcohol as describe in the Residence Hall Alcohol policy (<http://www.shu.edu/offices/policies-procedures/housing-residence-hall-alcohol-policy.cfm>). The University also prohibits the possession of alcohol by any student in all public locations on campus. The Law School enforces a policy related to alcohol at school sponsored functions on and off campus <http://law.shu.edu/Students/rights/Law-Student-Alcohol-Policy.cfm>.

The possession, sale, manufacture or distribution of any controlled substance is illegal under both state and federal laws. Such laws are strictly enforced by the University.

Violators of the University's alcohol and/or drug policies are subject to disciplinary sanction which may range to University expulsion. In addition, individuals may be referred for criminal prosecution which may include fine and imprisonment.

Seton Hall University is committed to a healthy environment for all member of our community. The University's comprehensive education programs exceed the requirements of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended. The biennial review of these programs and more detail about the programs offered can be found at <http://www.shu.edu/offices/student-life/community-standards/index.cfm>.

Compliance & Enforcement for Employees - Substance abuse is detrimental to an individual's health and may jeopardize safety in the workplace. For these and other reason, the unauthorized use, possession, storage, manufacture, distribution and sale of alcohol, controlled substances, and illegal drugs is prohibited on Seton Hall's campus. For more information consult Human Resources or the "Drug and Alcohol Free Workplace Policy" at <http://www.shu.edu/offices/policies-procedures/drug-and-alcohol-free-workplace.cfm>.

Educational Programs – The University provides numerous educational programs and multi-media campaigns to inform students about risks associated with alcohol and other drug misuse and abuse. While these programs are generally designed for the undergraduate population at the South Orange campus, they can be modified/adapted for the Law School population upon request. These programs include:

Students learn why being under the influence of drugs or alcohol changes everything, and how to reduce your risk of becoming a victim OR perpetrator of sexual assault.
- Stay in the SHU Blue: The ABC's of BAC – students learn how factors such as weight, gender, and time play into this important equation, and will keep you within the legal limit (the SHU Blue).

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT and ASSISTANCE for VICTIMS

Seton Hall Law School and the University as a whole is committed to creating and maintaining an educational environment free from all forms of sex discrimination including sexual misconduct. Any act involving sexual harassment, violence, coercion, and intimidation will not be tolerated.

Specifically, the University strictly prohibits the offenses of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. Upon learning that an act of sexual misconduct has taken place, immediate action will be taken to address the situation, work with State and local law enforcement if appropriate, supporting the victim, and imposing sanctions on the perpetrator pending adjudication of the incident.

Seton Hall University prohibits all forms of sexual misconduct. This broad term includes, but is not limited to, acts of sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual coercion, sexual threats or intimidation, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, and cyber stalking. The University strongly encourages accurate and prompt reporting of these crimes to both campus officials and to local law enforcement. There are, however, options available for students who wish to maintain confidentiality while getting the support they need.

Confidential Reporting – Crimes reported to member of the clergy, of Counseling & Psychological Services (CAPS), or of Health Services, when that member is acting in performance of his/her role as clergy, counselor, or medical provider, are considered confidential and will not be reported without the consent of the reporting individual. As a matter of practice, victims and witnesses are provided information as to how they may report a crime on or off campus. By law, members of CAPS and Health Services are required to report when an individual has expressed intent to harm him/herself or others.

Newark Police Department – 973-733-6000

Reporting a crime to Public Safety or to a campus office does not obligate the victim to pursue criminal prosecution. For students, in addition to criminal charges, sexual misconduct is prohibited conduct as specified in the Law School Student Code of Conduct found at <https://law.shu.edu/Students/rights/upload/honor-code.pdf>. Both the victim and the accused are afforded equitable rights during the investigative process. This applies to all members of the University community including students, faculty, staff, visitors, independent contractors, and other third parties who are on campus and involved in an incident of sexual misconduct that occurs on the University campus which includes any building or property owned or controlled by Seton Hall University and used in direct support of or in a manner related to the University’s educational purposes including residence halls, dining halls, and public property within or immediately adjacent to and accessible from campus. This policy also covers conduct that takes place off-campus that may have a nexus to the University community. This applies to all educational, extracurricular, athletic, or other campus programs, all University-related activities including, but not limited to, student organizations (academic, Greek, multicultural, religious, service, social and support, sports and recreational), community organizations with students and/or faculty participation, and all other educational or extracurricular events hosted by or at the University. This also applies to incidents occurring between individuals in varying types of relationships – students, faculty, staff, visitor, contracted employee, supervisor, subordinate, coach, student athlete or any combination thereof. These acts may be committed against an individual or against a group or organization and by a stranger, acquaintance, or someone with whom the victim has a social, romantic or intimate relationship. These acts may be committed by or against any individual, regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity.

To promote a safe and secure campus environment and prevent acts of sexual misconduct, the University provides ongoing prevention and awareness educational programs. Programs on these topics are specifically provided for all incoming students and new employees. In addition, all members of the University community are encouraged to participate throughout the year in ongoing campaigns and trainings on this subject.

Advice for Victims Following an Act of Sexual Violence

- Immediately get to a place where you feel safe. Call 911 for assistance.

Avoid showering, washing, changing clothes, combing hair, drinking, eating, or doing anything to alter physical appearance until after a physical exam has been completed.
- Have a sexual assault examination done at the hospital. Call Law School Public Safety (973-642-8725) for transportation to the hospital.

- Report the incident to Law School Public Safety (973-642-8725) and/or Newark Police (973-733-6000).

A student who has reported/is a victim of sexual misconduct may request an academic accommodation or change in residence and will receive an appropriate and reasonable accommodation. These include a change in academic or work schedule, withdraw from class without academic penalty, access to tutoring services, and change in residence hall assignment. Off-campus students may be offered on-campus accommodations.

Determining Process to be Used

If a student complainant presents a complaint against an employee of the University for alleged violation of the University's sexual harassment or misconduct policy, the complaint is referred to the Title IX Coordinator. The full guidelines for investigating and responding to such complaints are available here - <http://www.shu.edu/offices/policies-procedures/guidelines-for-responding-to-complaints-discrimination-harassment-retaliation.cfm>.

If a student complainant presents a complaint against a student of the University for alleged violation of the Student Code of Conduct, the complaint is referred to the Deputy Title IX Coordinator and the Student Conduct process (as described above) is followed.

Definition of Consent

Consent is defined as clear, unambiguous and voluntary agreement between the participants to engage in specific sexual activity. Such clear, unambiguous and voluntary agreement can be manifested by words or actions. However, past consent between the participants does not imply future consent. Silence, inaction, or the absence of resistance does not imply consent. Consent to engage in sexual activity with one person does not imply consent to engage in sexual activity with another. Consent can be withdrawn at any time. Coercion, force, or threat of either invalidates consent.

Someone who is incapacitated cannot give consent. Incapacitation may be due to the use of alcohol and/or other drugs, may be if a person is asleep or unconscious, or may be due to an intellectual or other disability that prevents the student from having the capacity to give consent.

Standard of Evidence

The standard of evidence used in all student disciplinary sexual misconduct hearings at Seton Hall Law School is preponderance of the evidence or a “more likely than not” standard.

Sanctions

A student who is found responsible for violation of the University’s policy of sexual misconduct is subject to any of the following possible sanctions.

In addition to the above issued sanction(s), we may require an educational or developmental sanction such as required counseling, restricted access to campus or programs, or required service. Note that this type of sanction is additional and is not a sanction for sexual misconduct by itself.

The University will maintain as private any accommodations or protective measures provided to a victim as long as it does not impair the ability to provide such measures. Personally identifiable information about victims will not be included in any publicly available record-keeping, including the reporting and disclosure of crime statistics.
